

Silent Scream
Taavi Rekkaro
2025

Please understand,
please realise,
please, let me be.

Why keep fighting yourself - pushing and pushing, trying to get shit done, but all the time fighting with myself. Thinking about it all the time, even when it's going, going well.

If you fall in love you fall in love, you're just flowing down the river.
If a project text is formed in your gut, you only have to sit and let it flow out - just as a passenger, trying to add something of your own.

Taavi
Taaaaavi, please hear!
It's a silent scream for help.

Listen from within - hear what I'd want to say next.
What would I say if I weren't so afraid.
You know what I feel, even before I say it anyway.
You know - but maybe you don't get what I couldn't say.

So I try to channel you, to reach you.
For those 30 seconds or so in the elevator, we are alone,
I look at us, and try to let you hear yourself.

I don't want to be you alone.
I don't want to command you around.

Let's just be .
Let me be.
I let you be.
Let us be.

Project exhibited at Oslo Negativ Festival 2025, in Oslo Nasjonalgalleriet where the Munch Scream was exhibited before and was at some point also stolen from that museum.
